Montessori

More and more parents have become aware of Montessori teaching aids. Montessori teaching aids were invented and designed by Maria Montessori, the famous Italian educator and founder of the Montessori method in the 20th century.

Based on her educational ideas, Montessori teaching aids are mostly derived from things familiar to children in life, both in terms of material and shape, giving children a sense of authenticity and intimacy, allowing them to feel the boundaries and perfection of the natural world.

It helps children to grow naturally in life, construct themselves mentally, achieve systematic sensory training and promote the coordinated development of muscle functions.

It allows children to gain spiritual nourishment in the process of manipulation, achieve independent education and develop their individual potential.

It is designed in accordance with the child's sensitive period, with full consideration of the age and range of application, with a hierarchical and logical approach, so that children can achieve their potential development independently during the manipulation process and achieve the purpose of gradual development.
